POPPLEFORD POST

2015/11

NOVEMBER 2015

This half-term is already moving on with lots of exciting events planned, please remember to check your parent mail emails or the school website for upcoming events.

Next week we have our Open Afternoon, after school on Tuesday for all parents to come and look at your child's class and their work. You are free to also visit any of the other classrooms as well between 3:15 and 5:00pm.

Then, of course, we will be getting even closer to all the Christmas events.

I hope to see as many of you as possible next Tuesday.

Some of the Guy Fawkes entries from last Friday. See the website for more photos.

Year 2 Poppies made in class

Class RT have signed up to the Unlimited Space Agency's Astro Science Challenge, a science adventure celebrating British astronaut Tim Peake's mission to the International Space Station! They will be undertaking science, maths and literacy challenges in Missions designed by the Science museum, the Royal Observatory Greenwich, the Met Office and the European Space Agency. In the lead up to Tim Peake launching into space on Tuesday 15th December, Year 5 will learn about space weather, spacewalks and space food and earn digital badges. Who knows, maybe one day, members of Class RT will be venturing into space on their own adventure!

Go to <http://unspaceagency.com/mission/the-astro-challenge/> for more information.

Thank you to all those who dressed up and donated to Children in Need. As of Friday afternoon, £158.20 had been donated by Supermen, Wonderwomen, Ian Poulter, Batman, and countless other super heroes.
